The case as made thus far is upon a time check for $50 collected by Coons in the name of a man whom the company claims is lictitious and never in their employ. The hearing in court, owing to the prominence of the case, drew a large crowd of spectators, and further evidence will be watched with great interest,

Storm Losses in Platte County. COLUMBUS, Neb., Nov. 20.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The terrible casualties from the storm, and which were thought to be exaggerated, were fully confirmed to-day by the farmers that thronged our streets from all parts of the county. Rusiness Boom at Columbus. COLUMBUS, Neb., Nov. 20.- Special Telegram to the BEE. |-For several days past rumors have been thick that some capitalist from Iowa were easting round for investment. A four-story brick hotel will go up in the spring, and other improvements are on the tapis. Our packing house, which has been unoccupied for two years, has passed into the hands of Atwood & Co., of Red Oak, Ia., under a five years' lease, and was fully ratified to-day. Pacific Junction, Ia., Nov. 20.-[Special Telegram to the BEE. |-The mangled body of Patrick Oninlan was found on the Bur lington track this morning, having been run over by a train at 5:23 a. m. The head was completely severed from the body and both legs were cut off. A strong suspicion obtains that Quinlan was foully murdered and the body placed on the track to destroy all evidence of the crime. The investigation of the coroner did not develop any evidence to con-firm the suspicion, and the jury returned a verdict of "killed by the cars."

Increasing Arensdorf's Bail. Sioux City, Ia., Nov. 20.- Special Tele gram to the BEE | -- An unexpected turn in the Haddock case was made to-day. When Arensdorf was yesterday admitted to $25,000 ball, the attorneys for the state had not agreed as to whether the crime was a bailable one at all, or if so, how large the bond should be. This morning a written notice was filed by the attorneys for the prosecution requst-Ing Judge Lewis to reconsider his decision and asking to increase the bond to $50,000. The matter of admitting Arensdorf to bail at all has been widely discussed to-day, and the general opinion seems to be that either the court should not accept any bond or that the amount should not be less than the states attorneys are petitioning for. It is becoming more and more evident every day that the care for the states are for the states at the day that the case for the prosecution is get-ting stronger and the defense will un-doubtedly have difficulty in making out a case. Leavitt has not yet furnished bail. There is some talk of the law and order league guaranteeine his bond. A meeting of the league was held to consider the matter last night, but took no definite action.

AFFAIRS AT THE STOCK YARDS. Probability That All the Old Men Wil Be Back Before Long.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.-|Special Telegram to the BEE. |-Two weeks ago to-day at 3 p. m. the butchers in all the packing houses at the stock yards were ordered to quit work. To-day, for the first time, the strike may be considered at an end. At noon to-day the Second regiment broke camp at the yards and marched through the city to their armory to stack their guns and lay away their knapsacks. The entire protection of life and property in Packingtown now rests with Deputy Sheriff Burke and his deputies. The plan of the packers in taking back their men slowly and in squads has had the desired effect. The men have been forced to act individually and on their own judgments. Those who were sent home from day to day were put on their good conduct. Then, too, the return of the old men did not come with such a rush as to frighten away from their places all the new men who had been taken into the houses. The result is that between two and three thousand nonunion men are in the packing houses to-day. Several thousand of the strikers were taken back yesterday and this morning, so that only a few thousand now remain unemployed, and hundreds of these hold tickets from foremen to return to work Monday. A new bench in Armour & Co.'s was started to-day and furnishes work for a larger numto-day and furnishes work for a larger number of men than were employed before the strike. This, with the fact that very many of the old men drifted away to Peoria. Kansas City and other places during the lockout, leads to the belief that by next week there will be few of the former employes unprovided tor, excepting such as have been blacklisted for being too officious and offensive in keeping the others from work. The strike has been an expensive one for the backers, the butchers, the county and state, and those most familiar with the feetings of the workmen think that its like will not soon occur again.

In regard to the poisoning case, Ar mour said to your reporter: "There is very little new about it. Now I think that was the work of some crank of an anarchist. Of course we are doing everything that experts know how to learn who gave the innocent boy the package. Several times we thought we had a clew and then it was lost. It is a terrible thing, and if anything would make a man shudder, this is calculated to.

A CUBAN'S WILL. A Contest Already Started Among the

The will was executed in Havana and represents an estate valued at $50,000,000, of which $20,000.000 are invested in this country. It is a joint will of the testator and wife, to be operative in case of the death of either, it being stated that when they were married he possessed $20,000 and she owned negro slaves. Since his death and at present the estate over and above these possessions were the profits conjugal society. They had twelve children, of whom eight survive, and the will directs that the estate be divided between them, share and share alike, taking into account the amounts which have already een given, ranging from $68,288 to $1,779, 21. In the meantime the counsel for the condemned men are preparing to apply to the justices of the supreme court to interfere and stay the execution, though it is hard to determine just what they are doing in the matter and when and to which of the justices of the supreme court they will make their application as those of them that can be reached seem very reluctant to talk about the matter. "We are preparing our briefs for the supreme court," said Mr. Zeisler to your reporter today," when asked what was being done in the case. "An application for a supersedens will probably be made to one of the judges of the supreme court of the state Monday or Tuesday."

Dr. Ernest Schmidt, cashier of the an archist defense fund, has just made a reporof his accounts from August 31 to November 15. Starting from the initial date with a balance of $5,570.89 on hand, there have been received $9,902.19. Of this $11,400.50 have been expended, leaving a present balance of $4,072.49. The report is carefully itemized and would occupy two and a half newspaper columns. The sources of revenue are as numerous as they are diversified and indi-cate that the condemned men have many practical friends here and clsewere. Justice Schwab, of New York, has alone raised S1,885, and a large number of private parties have donated liberally. By far the greatest assistance is received from labor unions, and it is their subscriptions which swell the fund to an unusually heavy ram. The $15,000 ex-penditures reveal some interesting facts heretofore unknown. Leonard Swett has received a $500 retainer, Messrs, Black, Solo-mon and Zeisler have together received $3,500. The bill of exceptions, including the stenographer's wages, printing, etc., cost $2,475,35. Of this $2,475 was paid to the clerk of the criminal court for transcripts. The remainder of the expenditures went out in fees to detectives, correspondence, etc. The Arbeiter Zeitung, commenting upon the report, says the present balance is not sufficient for future needs, and all friends of the cause are urged to grant a helping hand.

county in the past month. Farrell has a peculiar way of getting game when he goes hunting and his work here resulted in the recovery of five horses and the capture of the man who stole them. Within the past six weeks a number of farmers of Mills county have had their horses stolen from them. The first man to suffer was L. P. Anderson, of Malvern, Iowa, a brother of Congressman Anderson, of the Eighth district. He lost a valuable mare early in October. A short time afterwards Joe Fallon, a farmer living two miles east of Glenwood lost a team of ponies. This was followed by the larceny of a horse from Amos Gridley at Pacific City, and of another from Dud Delashmett at Pacific Junction. The farmers became aroused and began to ask aid from the authorities. In re-sponse to their call Farrell went to work on the cases. After a week's work in Iowa he secured clues that brought him to Omaha to look for the property and the thief. The farmers imagined the were being made the victims of the depre dations of an organized gang of thieves, but Farrell, from the information ob-tained, decided that the work had all been done by one man. He came to Omaha on Friday morning and in one day's work succeeded in locating three of the horses and the thief. His first clue was found at Davis Bros, clothing store on Sixteenth street where a man had traded one of the stolen horses for a suit of clothes. ting an accurate discription of the suit of clothes he soon located the man who was wearing the clothes and placed him under arrest. He was identified by Mr. Davis and gave his name as Harry Witmar. He is a young fellow about twenty three years of age, and looks more like a sickly operatic tenor than a horse thief After getting his man in charge, memory of lost year's habeas corpus troubles re-curred to him, and he decided to take no enances of a recurrence of the trouble He therefore hustled his man into a cal and had him on the lowa side of the river before he realized what was being done with him. Farrel then returned and commenced a search for the other horses. He found one of them in possession of H. Tipke, the dairyman, another in N. H. Brown's livery barn on Cuming street, one in Dimmick's barn on Cass street and another in the pos session of a farmer living near the city Yesterday he succeeded in getting pos-session of all of the stolen horses and left for home with them last night. It was one of the neatest pieces of official work that has been done in the state for a long while and Farrell deserves all of the credit himself.

PEROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU. At the annual meeting of the Nebraska Stock Yards company, the proprietors as well of the town site of West Lincoln, a very creditable showing was made to the board of directors of the progress of work during the past year. The report of the secretary showed that 175 lots had been sold in the past year, aggregating a total value of $31,645. These lots are sold for one-fourth-cash down and the balance on three years time at 8 per cent. As an illustration of the value of the investment to the stock yards company their original purchase of 560 acres, upon a part of which West Lincoln is situated, cost the company just $25,101.42, so the handsome profit the company is making already is apparent to all. One of the first improvements that will be made is to enlarge the stock yards proper. These yards were laid out when the B. & M. had the only line of track running to the yards, and that track was located along the east side of them. Since the Missouri Pacific and Northwestern roads have had a track built to the west of this the stock yards will be extended to the latter tracks, which will increase their capacity one-third. The canning industry will be developed in the early spring, and at the present time the stock is nearly all taken for a vege table canning company that will put in a plant giving employment through the busy season to 200 hands, and a canning company now located in Chicago is negotiating for the grounds necessary upor which to plant an immense establish ment that will handle fruits and vege tables in season and will can meats in the winter months, making an institution doing business in its line all the year round. At the stock yards company's annual meeting the old board of direct ors were re-elected for the coming year, and the officers of the board are: Fitzgerald, president; J. J. Imhoff, vice president; John Gillespie, secretary, and J. E. Houtz, treasurer. DISTRICT COURT.

The final jury case in the court here was the one mentioned in yesterday's BEE of the law and order league against a druggist named Shrader, resulted in a verdict of not guilty, the testimony for the state being very meagre, one witness stating that he purchased a bottle of beer, although he aid not open it. Agent James and his partner, Whitcomb, the witness stated, were present at the time, but Whitcomb's testimony was of no weight, and Agent James is a fugitive somewhere from a forfeited recognizance to answer in court at this term. RELP OFFERED. The police judge has received letters from F. W. Kelley, foreman of bridges on the Lincoln extension of the Northwestern, and from the city marshal of Wahoo both parties inquiring as to the nature of the offense of Mike Burke, who is serving a thirty 'lays' sentence in the county in here for assaulting an officer. Both of the letters speak of the heretofore good character of Burke and offer to help him out of his troubles. Burke was jailed the 4th of the month, and he was arrested after a hard struggle, at the St. Charles house, where he was found drunk. The judge will intercede for the man.

POLICE MATTERS.

The officers yesterday were keeping a weather eye open for a chap who is a par tial stranger to the town, and who is considered by the police a hard character This chap the day before entered a Chines wash house and tried to put into execution the sentiment, "the Chinese must go," and brandished a revolver to execute his threat.

Jack Brennan and Tom Burke, two old offenders who have made their records were up in police court again for drunk and disorderly conduct. They were fined $10 each and committed. ABOUT THE CITY

A pleasant reception was given last evening at the Academy of Music half by the Lincoln Business college management to its patrons and friends. Some of the most pleasant of the local talent in the city, both musical and recitative, adorned the programme and entertained the guests of the evening in the most asant manner, and the management of the social part of the evening was alert at all times. The following excellent programme was rendered:

university who form the Union College society at the institution gave the most delightful programme at their society meeting Thursday evening that they have presented this term. One of the features of the entertainment was the recitations, generous in number, given by Miss Parker, the elecutionist, prior to her departure on her eastern tour, and the musical numbers on the programme were all equally excellent and reflected great credit upon those taking part throughout the evening. The weather was not at its brightest and best, and at one time a postponement was under dis-cussion and so announced through error; notwithstanding these drawbacks the audience was a very creditable in num-bers and enthusiastic for each and every number, which was as follows:

Recitation-Scene from King John. Miss Parker, Piano Solo—"Chanson Hongroise,".. Dupont Miss Minnie D. Cochran. Recitation..... "The Brakeman at Church," Miss Parker.

Mrs. Angie F. Newman, one of Lincoln's ladies, who has won more than a state reputation in temperance and chris tian work, lectured last evening in St. Paul's M. E. church to a good audience who were highly entertained upon the subject, "Mormonism."

The University society meetings at their halls in the University building on Friday evening were largely attended, and the programmes were excellent in composition and entertaining in delivery. The societies all and each are in a very prosperous condition the present term.

The wide awake waiters at the Windsor hotel have a club of their own called the Windsor club, and on Thanksgiving night they propose to have an entertain ment at the Metropolitan rink, at which time and place their friends will be right royally entertained. The Lincoln Home Opera company were stranded by the late storm at their homes in Lincoln and were unable to visit Ashland Wednesday evening for an entertainment there. According to later arrangements last evening was substituted, and the company departed for that place by special train. Apollo Division U. R. K. of P. gave an exhibition drill sandwiched with skating at the Metropolitan rink Friday evening.

LIGHTS O' LONDON. At the Boyd's opera house, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Novemer 24 and 25, and also on Thanksgiving day afternoon, will be presented the powerful and picture-que drama, the "Lights o' London." There is something fascinating about the "Lights o' London." To see it once engenders the wish to see it again. In that lies the marked dissimilarity existing betwixt it and other melodramas, the most of which are but fleet-ing figures of one's fancys But the point, plot and purpose of the "Lights o' London' are so strongly and vividly drawn, and its morat is so direct, pure and wholesome as to indeliwholesome as to indeli-stamp its image upon even unreflective mind. Its diversified and peculiarly constructed situations offer every opportunity for the embellishments of wonderful mechanical contrivances and attractive scenic surroundings. The company to render the play here is under the management of the widely known amusement eaterer, Mr. Jacob Litt, who has succeeded Shook & Collier in the right to produce the piece. Mr. Litt brings his own scenery—all new and ex-quisitely painted—and the management assert that the play will be better staged and more artistically rendered than it was ever seen before in this city.

The "Clio" engagement closed with another big house last night. The matince performance was also well attended. Signor Operti, the musical director, deserves mention for his ability as a com-poser and director. He is a superior nusician and the selections from his compositions were of the most enjoyable eatures of the evening.
